

THE KRESGE FOUNDATION

Reader's Guide to the Form 990-PF

A private foundation must make its annual Form 990-PF available for public inspection. The Kresge Foundation (hereinafter, the "Foundation") posts this form for download on the Web site, www.kresge.org. The Form provides information about the Foundation's financial and charitable activities for the year as well as assesses any taxes owed by the Foundation to the IRS.

The tax return form and rules can be complex, so we hope that this Reader's Guide will aid you in gaining a better understanding of our form. We have provided answers to some frequently asked questions as well as a table of key data points and their relevance by topic related to the return.

Frequently Asked Questions

Payout

How much was Kresge required to distribute in 2014?

The Foundation was required to distribute $172,385,259 as shown on Page 8, Part XI, line 7. The term the IRS uses for the minimum 5 percent payout is the distributable amount. The actual amount of adjusted qualifying distributions for the Foundation in 2014 was $165,009,886 as shown on Page 8, Part XII, line 6.

How is the required payout calculated?

The IRS rules require the Foundation to pay out 5 percent of its average non-charitable use assets, which is equivalent to the investment assets and any other assets that are not used directly in the charitable work of the Foundation, adjusted for income tax and recoveries of amounts previously treated as qualifying distributions. This calculation is summarized on Page 8 in Parts X and XI of the return.

What types of disbursements count toward Kresge's annual payout requirement?

Grants paid, program-related investments, exempt operating costs (those that further the charitable purpose of the Foundation), and amounts paid to acquire assets used directly in carrying out charitable purpose, all count toward payout.

Administrative and Other Costs

What were Kresge's 2014 exempt expenses as a percentage of qualifying distributions and as a percentage of average assets?

Total exempt expenses as a percentage of qualifying distributions was 11.23 percent (calculated as $18,532,569 Page 1, Part I, line 24, column (d) divided by $165,009,886 Page 8, Part XII, line 4). Survey results of peer foundations with greater than $1 billion in average assets reveal exempt expenses as a percentage of grant payout of 16.64 percent for 2014.

Total exempt expenses as a percentage of average assets was 0.53 percent (calculated as $18,532,569 Page 1, Part I, line 24, column (d) divided by $3,526,186,430 Page 8, Part X, line 5). Survey results of peer foundations with greater than $1 billion in average assets reveal exempt expenses as a percentage of average assets of 0.92 percent for 2014.

Taxes and Other

What kind of taxes does Kresge pay?

The Foundation is exempt from income taxes under IRS rules. However, the Foundation is required to pay a 2 percent excise tax on net investment income, which can be reduced to 1 percent if certain spending criteria are met (discussed below). Net investment income includes interest, dividends, net realized capital gains, and other investment income, minus expenses for managing investments. The net investment income figure used in this calculation is shown on Page 1, Part I, line 27b, column (b). The 2014 net investment income was $311,211,212. In 2014, a 2 percent excise tax rate resulted in tax of $6,224,224 as shown on Page 4, Part VI, line 5 of the 990-PF.

The Foundation is also subject to unrelated business income tax under IRS rules due to the nature of income derived from some of the investment vehicles held in the investment portfolio. This tax is calculated using the tiered corporate tax rate schedule.

Why do some foundations pay 1 percent in excise taxes, and other pay 2 percent?

A foundation may reduce its excise tax rate from 2 percent to 1 percent if it disburses an amount above its required minimum distribution amount. In 2014, the Foundation needed to distribute $192,619,949 (Page 3, Part V, line 7) to qualify for the lower rate, however, it only distributed $165,009,886 (Page 3, Part V, line 8).
